

Help Me I Want To See Jesus

While visiting Jerusalem, Miriam finds the city in a state of unrest and filled with turmoil. When a disturbance occurs near the market place, one man emerges as the center of attention. She convinces her less than willing brother to join her quest to find the strangers identity. Together they follow clues, face dangerous perils and discover the mans name is Jesus. Despite warnings, Miriam presses to see Jesus face to face and begs her brothers continued help by pleading, Help me I want to see Jesus. Join Miriam as she follows the footsteps of Jesus until she reaches an unexpected end, and receives a lesson in faith. Roxanne Ghee-Jones is living out her God given desire to share the gospel of Jesus Christ by writing stories children can enjoy reading alone or together with family. During her twenty seven years of teaching children the word of God, it has been her constant prayer that children know the love of God and receive Jesus Christ as the Lord of their lives. Infused with the mission of her local church; she endeavors to raise up leaders that impact their community and the world with the Word of God. Reading and studying the Bible is without question a vital part of her life which she finds enjoyable and fulfilling. She prays the same joy and fulfillment will be had by the children who read her stories. Roxanne resides in New Jersey with her family and attends Living Faith Christian Center where she serves as a member of the Childrens Ministry Team.
